Dr. Alexander Hössl has been working as a lawyer in the Frankfurt office of AGS Legal since 2017. Dr. Hössl advises and represents national and international clients in all areas of litigation and arbitration proceedings. His practice also focuses on advising clients in the run-up to proceedings, in particular on questions of securing claims. In recent years, Dr. Hössl has represented clients from a wide variety of sectors, including the financial sector, the transport industry and the technology sector. These large-scale disputes typically concern the enforcement or defence of claims in the areas of company law, commercial law and contract for work and services law. Dr. Hössl also advises on shareholder disputes. Before joining AGS Legal, Dr. Hössl worked for three years in the Frankfurt office of Clifford Chance LLP as a research associate in the Banking and Capital Markets practice group (project financing), during which time he also received his doctorate from the judge of the Federal Constitutional Court (Bundesverfassungsgericht), Prof. Dr. Gabriele Britz.
